Mech Chip is a fantasy steampunk setting about, you are a Mech Chip, a nano augmented robot, who travels through a magical world of strange devices, dangerous monsters and strange creatures trying to get back home. With a clockwork heart, not much else and a special power, you will conquer puzzles, explore amazing machines and decorate the world by adding a color to any given spot on the map. It's up to you if you want to open dark paths to the world of madness or stay at night behind a watch glass hiding from the monsters. Mech Chip was built with the Unity3d engine, so it will be cross platform compatible. If you liked the game we would love to have you play it, so please let us know your thoughts on the game at mech-chip.com, or share the trailer on your favorite platform! And of course, feel free to tell your friends about it, because we would love for this to be a game that is just for you and you alone. See you around the universe! Hello! Everyone! Welcome to the first video from the development of Mech Chip. We are Kisan and Sebastian, guys that worked on this project together on an adventure we will talk about. In this first video we will talk about the main character of Mech Chip: A Mech Chip himself! The Main Game Object: Let's get started with the most important part of Mech Chip, the character! Without a character, the rest of the game is pretty pointless. First we chose a style for the Mech Chip himself, the style that will put him in the universe, the steampunk setting for our game. Then we made a 2D version that could be used for all our images, animations and so on. After that we 3D sculpted the character using Sculptris to make everything easier to texture. We even added some character on the bottom of our 2D images and adjusted them for animation, so the character will look much better in the final game. Last but not least we made the Mech Chip controller using blocks from the Seesaw game engine and made a lot of animations to make the whole thing look more or less awesome. We're working on making a randomizer for the Mech Chip, so you'll be able to choose which colors you want to start the game with. The Second Game Object: After the main character we made the things that are important for the game. We chose the right color for the robot, so you know what kind of Liberal party Senator Nick McKim has today been reported as saying that the Greens should make a 180-degree turn and get their party to support the relegalisation of marijuana. "I hear from my constituents in the pastoral state of South Australia, who tell me that they'd be perfectly happy to have a crack at selling a product that gets the masses high," he said. "And wouldn't that be a great way of solving the housing crisis?" "I mean it's the only way this place's going to survive," "I reckon all this talk of climate change and decarbonization and everything is just media propaganda to keep the masses high. What's the point of saving the planet if nobody gets high? What an absurdly un
